PMU RESCUE AND REHABILITATION

a 501 (c) (3) non-profit organization dedicated to rescuing PMU mares and foals and placing them with good families

ADOPTION CRITERIA

1. In order to qualify for adopting a horse, you should:
 - Already own a horse, preferably at least five years
 - Maintain the animal(s) on your property where you reside
 - Be 18 years of age or older
2. A barn or lean-to, safe and proper fencing (board or wire mesh is appropriate, not barbed wire), and an adequate water/feed supply (including a way to keep water from freezing in the winter) is required.
3. The adoptive owner(s) must provide the name, phone number and address of their veterinarian, farrier, and a person who will care for the animal when the owner is away.
4. Periodic checks may be made of the adopted animal by a Dreamchaser PMU (DPMU) representative for the lifetime of the horse. The adoptive owner agrees to submit a DPMU Adoption Update Form on the animal each year on or before the date of adoption until DPMU deems this is no longer necessary.
5. All animal(s) will go to the best/most appropriate home that we feel meets the horses needs. Our fees are based on what it cost us to procure the animal and pay vet and shipping costs.
6. Any animal adopted from DPMU may not be moved to a new location or leased or loaned to another person without prior approval from DPMU. DPMU also reserves the right of first refusal if for any reason the adoptive owner is unable or unwilling to maintain the animal properly.
7. DPMU cannot guarantee any animal(s) as to its disposition or training. Animals which come into our custody are usually young and untrained. Due to their usually debilitated condition, temperament generally changes with proper care. DPMU will include with each adoption a complete file on the animal(s), which will explain how the animal came to be on the farm, what veterinary care it received while it was here and what the staff has personally noticed about the animal's disposition and training.

Because certain homes that do not meet our preliminary criteria may qualify to adopt certain animals, please contact the office if you have any question about your eligibility.
